DECKS

Patio decks built with recycled products like the one on the left provides a strong outdoor, gathering place for the owners. They created a border with planters around the outer perimeter of their deck. The space provides plenty of room for several sets of patio furniture and a fun place to entertain or just hang out.

Wrap around decks like this one is a gateway to enjoy time outdoors in this beautiful country setting. The owners used iron wood for the floor which is as strong as recycled products yet provides the wooden look they desired. They also used redwood posts and steel balusters giving it a unique look.
